

WAAMH

Western Australian Association
for Mental Health

Co-design Station 1

What are you Doing? Why are you Doing it?

Co-design is gaining recognition as a best practice approach to designing mental health services in Australia. It is a process that involves “designing and delivering services and systems in an equal and reciprocal relationship between professionals using the service, their families, and their community” (New Economics Foundation, 2011).

Build your knowledge and confidence in implementing co-design by learning how to creatively adopt co-designed practices in your community group or organisation in the first of a series of standalone workshops offered by WAAMH, in partnership with just. Design.

Co-design Station 1 asks participants “What are you doing?” and “Why are you doing it?”

This course is suitable for consumers, carers, family members, mental health professionals, allied health professionals, and other interested stakeholders.

Content covered:

- Ethical foundations of collaborative design
- Addressing power differentials
- Fair facilitation of diverse design approaches

DATE: 2 April 2019 TIME: 9am - 4.30pm VENUE: Workzone Building Training room, Level 1, 1 Nash Street, PERTH	$195 - Full members $220 - Associate members $245 - Non members Scholarship places available	Catering and light refreshments provided Custom onsite courses available, enquire now.
--	--	---

Peak body representing the community-based mental health sector in WA.

• E: info@waamh.org.au • W: www.waamh.org.au • ABN: 15 165 640 637

Follow us:

Training Includes:

Qualified and experienced trainer
Personalised certificate
A take home resource package